11/24. Gov.uk domain

The main two reasons for parish and town councils not adopting .gov.uk were cost and difficulty of registration. Now, both of those barriers have been removed. Firstly, the Cabinet Office has set up the Parish Council Domains Helper Service (PCDHS) to help parish and town councils to own and operate a .gov.uk domain more easily. Essentially, there are three aspects to the service:

1. A suite of practical advice, guidance, and reference materials - taking councils through the process of registering, adopting and maintaining a .gov.uk domain.
2. An enhanced level of support from .gov.uk domain registrars who understand the needs of parish councils.
3. Help with costs - a one-off contribution (£100 + VAT) towards a new .gov.uk domain

There are a series of workshops available on the following dates on which councillors will attend at their own convenience:

- 19th April 10 - 10.45
- 25th April 12.30 - 1.15
- 26th April 9.30 - 10.15
- 2nd May 4 - 4.45
